Student Life

Extra-curricular activities are one of the keys to Lowell High School. They help to fill in the gap between high school days and classes. After seven hours of such classes as biology, trigonometry, government, foreign languages, or typing a break in routine is essential to the well being of the students.

These activities can come in many different shapes. They can happen during school, such as Spirit Week, or Pep Sessions, other events take many months to organize, such as plays or big dances like the Prom.

There are always plenty of activities going on for the student who wants to be entertained. There are sports events nearly every night, dances, plays, or club meetings. Every so often, something new comes up that can be a big event if students get involved. This year one big new event was the Blood Drive. This years blood drive was organized, sponsored and run by the Student Council, and it was a big success. Student Council President Carol Ohlenkamp says the council intends to make the Blood Drive an annual event here at Lowell High School. Donations were primarily for a junior student, Ted Handy and for the son of one of our teachers, Mr. Kussy. Both of these boys have leukemia, and the students desire to contribute to these boys made the drive a huge success.

Another new attraction at L.H.S. was voter registration for Student Council Elections. By having the students register, it helped to increase their awareness of the need for participation and the responsibility each and every person of age has to his and her country.

All of these activities help students learn to open new doors and seek new and exciting challenges.

Jr. Miss '80—"That's Entertainment!"

On October 28th, the Little Theater was filled to capacity as parents, relatives and friends joined to watch the 1980 Lowell Junior Miss Pageant. This year's theme was "That's Entertainment," and the Youth Fitness Routine was done to a song from "a Chorus Line" with the girls dressed in top hats, canes, and bow ties. The eighteen participants worked for 6 weeks putting together their individual talents and youth fitness routine. A special kind of friendship always seems to emerge between the participants during these weeks of fun and anticipation for the "big night."

nior Miss and also received the Youth Fitness Award. First runner-up was Jill Schuyler, who also won the award for Poise and Appearance. Second runner-up was Carol Ohlenkamp. Terri Runfeldt was the third runner-up as well as Scholastic Achievement winner. Debbie Rokosz won the Creative and Performing Arts Award and Mary Sue Gunning was the Spirit of Junior Miss Award winner.

Geno Flores was the Chairman for his 5th consecutive year. Eldie Schultz and Phyllis Flores were co-chairmen.

Powderpuff-Highlight of Homecoming.

Before the powderpuff game they had a parade and after the parade there was a bonfire in which they burned a bulldog.

Some of the half-time events were running obstacles with eggs in your mouth in which some teachers participated, and watermelon eating contests.

Homecoming-The Night of Nights.

Homecoming!! The highlight of the year! The parade, the powderpuff game, spirit week, these all build up to Homecoming night with the big game itself and the Homecoming Dance sponsored by the Junior class.

Homecoming week really is a special time around L.H.S. With everyone participating in Spirit week and you vote for the Homecoming Court. Every year Homecoming becomes more exciting. We hope next year we can have an even better Homecoming week.

Story Theatre—The Big Debut.

Story Theatre was the big debut for the Thespians. The returning cast really gave a fine performance with the techniques they learned last year and the newcomers did especially fine job. It was the first year Mrs. Ciochina sponsored the Thespians, but that didn't stop them from putting on a fine performance.

Story Theatre was made up of little skits which built up to a fantastic play. The play was presented on November 9th and 10th at 8:00 p.m.

The Light and Sound Club also played a huge part in the play by lending a huge hand to the cast.

Thanks to the sponsor Mrs. Ciochina, the Light and Sound Club, and especially the wonderful cast, Story Theatre was a big success.

Spirit Week—Class vs. Class

Did you ever wake up in the morning and say to yourself, "What on earth am I gonna wear today?" Well during spirit week you have nothing to worry about because the Student Council decides for you. It may not be your average run of the mill school clothes but you can bet you won't be the only one dressing up.

Spirit week consists of different days such as Western day, Crazy hat, sock, and tie day, school colors day, Class colors day, Jeans and T-shirt day and Dress-up day.

Spirit Week also includes the decorating of the school and the sale of suckers and the selling of chain links.

Spirit week was won both times by the Juniors but all the classes showed a great deal of enthusiasm.

National Honor Society Gains 36 New Members

On October 9, 1979 at 8 o'clock, the National Honor Society held its annual Induction Ceremony in the Little Theater at Lowell High School. Thirty-six new members, which included 7 seniors and 29 juniors, were inducted into the club. To become a member of the National Honor Society, you must maintain a grade average of 3.5 through your freshman and sophomore years. After you are inducted, you are expected to remain in the club.

These 36 students were honored at the ceremony by Dr. Joseph Schuster, who presented each of the inductees their membership cards. After the ceremony, cake and punch were served in the North Commons.

Open House attracts Parents and Friends.

Some of us think of Open House as a day of death when your parents come in and hear all the bad reports from the teachers. But there is a better side to Open House, it is a great chance to show off our school. Also, the clubs present different things they have accomplished. The Art Guild displays their work as the band and choir do their stuff. And to top it off the Thespians put on a fine performance in the Little Theatre.

All of these people really worked hard to show the parents and friends what a great school we have.

On December 15, 1979, amidst the snow and ice, the Lowell High School Christmas Dance was held at the high school in the multi-purpose room. This was a formal dance sponsored by the Student Council. Refreshments were provided by the Student Council and pictures were taken by Wahlberg Studio at a charge of $7.00.

The multi-purpose room was decorated for Christmas with a tree in the center of the gym with lights and strings of popcorn, and even a gift or two to add to the spirit. Windows were sprayed with cheery holiday greetings and snow scenes. All attendance had a very enjoyable time.

Pep Sessions—Key to Firing Up.

Let's get fired up!! This is one of the most popular cheers said at the pep sessions and at all the games. The cheerleaders are the leaders to getting the team fired up before the games and at the games.

Both pep sessions and convos are held at the end of the day before a certain game. The pep sessions are brought together by Ms. Luann Long and the convos are brought together by the Student Council. Both the pep sessions and the convos are very successful.

ABOVE: YOU'RE SUPPOSED TO TALK INTO THE MIKE. Says Chris Morrison to Ms. Long at a pep session. ABOVE RIGHT: DON'T I KNOW YOU? Dwayne "Curly" Mann asks questionably. RIGHT: SENIORS DO IT BETTER! A few of the Seniors cheer on their class.

Prom—The Big Event.

The Prom was held in the Devil's Commons and the multi-purpose room. There was a deck leading into the Multi-Purpose Room, which looked like a boat.

These girls did a great job in setting this up.

Key to Country Spirit

On Friday, February 29, 1980, Sadie Hawkins day came alive again.

As legend has it, it was on this day in history that all hillbilly girls, called Sadie Hawks, used to run after and try to catch the boy of their choice. If she caught him, he had to marry her.

Inspired by this holiday, the Junior Class sponsored its annual Sadie Hawkins dance, which was, of course a turn-about. There was plenty of straw, free popcorn and lemonade. The main attraction of the evening was "Gettin' Hitched" by judge Chuck Naumowich for 25¢.

Pictures were taken by Spasoff Studio at a charge of $6.50.

To the delight of the Junior class, the dance was a huge success. The funds were used to help pay for the 1980 Junior-Senior Prom.

In mid March Mrs. Ciochina held tryouts for their second play of the 1979-80 school year. This play was the Music Man. The music man was Chris Morrison.

This play was held on April 25 and 26 at 8:00 p.m.

The cast did a tremendous job.

The new Thespian sponsor is Mrs. Ciochina and did a fantastic job herself this year along with the Story Theatre an the Open House.

Mothers Tea—A Unique Event.

Mother Tea is a unique event at Lowell High School. It is an evening when the mothers of the home economics students gather together for refreshments and a fashion show. The fashion show is put on by the Home-Ec students who wear the outfits they have made during the year. They model skirts, dresses, pantsuits, short sets and even infant wear. Afterwards the mothers are treated to refreshmens also made by the students. It is an evening enjoyed by all who participate.

May Queen—An Elegant Honor.

May Queen was held with the Mothers Tea. The May Queen Court was composed of freshman Denise Smith, sophomore Dawn Korte, juniors Ronna Lukasik and Lisa Brown, seniors Carol Ohlenkamp and Darlene Roark and the 1979-1980 May Queen Charlene Kroll. The court was selected by their fellow classmates and the May Queen was selected by the entire student body.

Valentine Dance—Cupid's Arrows Fly Again.

This annual dance was a formal turn-about, which meant that the girls got to invite the boy of their dreams out for an extra special evening of dancing and fun.

The dance was sponsored by the Foreign Exchange Club and was attended by over 80 couples.

Pictures were taken by Spasoff Studio at a charge of $6.50.

Clubs are the spice of life at L.H.S. They add a bit of sunshine to nearly everything they do. Many of their projects are set up for the benefit of charities or profitable goals. O.E.A. this year was involved in the Special Olympics Program for the handicapped. They went to Terre Haute for this event and helped out with many of the races and competitive games. Later in the year they sponsored a Bowl-a-thon to raise money for a banner for the Lowell Special Olympic Team.

Club members are dedicated people who want to be involved and have fun at the same time. They sponsor dances, bake-sales, and pester you to buy tickets for upcoming raffles. They're usually the ones who spend free mods cutting out construction paper letters to decorate the commons or resource centers during Spirit Week and Homecoming. They even devote home hours to selling citrus fruit, making posters, and getting up enough sponsors for some type of "thon" to ensure that the club will prosper. The more involved they become in a particular club, the happier these members are. They add a touch of class to our school and a spark of school spirit too!

Club members are a great attribute to high school. They get fired up about what they're doing, and this spirit lends itself to more activities. Without clubs, high school life would be drab. Just imagine no more grandfather clock or roll top desk raffles, no more candy in the lunch room, no more flowers in May, no more posters, no stuffed animals . . .

Trackettes Lend A Hand.

The Trackettes kept score and time for the Lowell Track team this season. They were a big help to our track team. Without them our team wouldn't have had the moral support they needed to finish a great season.

Custodians Make A Clean Sweep.

The Custodians did a great job cleaning up our school last year. They vacuumed, mopped, waxed, dusted, and polished until our school shined. We really owe alot to our loyal Custodian staff for making this school a better place to be in. This staff really worked hard last year and I am sure they will work twice as hard next year.

Row 1: Pearl McClymont, Beverly Roof, Pat Hamilton, Mickey Hennen. Row 2: Ed Bakling, Gerald Wloden, Allan Fox, Mel Buske, Harry Vandersterren, Tom Engles, Jeff Ramsey.

The Lowell Gridettes are a great help to our football team. Without them what would we do? Their various tasks and duties are very important during a football game. For without them our players would die of thirst, they would also never be able to get into the field since it is one of the loyal Gridettes who opens the gate for them.

Besides fetching water and opening gates, the gridettes do much more, for instance they keep stats and cheer on the players. They are always there when a football player is in need of something or just needs a little encouragement.

Cheerleaders: Key to Our Victories

Did you ever think of how terrible it would be to have a school without cheerleaders? Could you imagine a school with no decorations or no spirit week and no cheering blocks! Well luckily at LHS we have no need to worry. Because at LHS we have the best bunch of cheerleaders a school could ask for.

When you think of a cheerleader you probably think of a little girl short skirt but our cheerleaders mean business. They aren't in it for popularity; they are cheerleaders who want to help out the football and basketball teams have a great season and lead the fans to a roaring good time.

Our cheerleaders bring life to our ball games and pep sessions. They give support to our teams when they are down and cheer them on as they head for a victory.

I.C.E.-On The Go.

Want a part-time job? Get paid for working while going to school? Join I.C.E! This club is available to all Juniors and Seniors during school.

I.C.E. gives you the benefits of getting credits, money for college, and doing what you would like to do when you get out of college.

MORNING I.C.E. Cadet Teachers-Key to Future Teachers

Going to the Middle School or Elementary School is what the Cadet Teachers do. They help younger kids in subjects they seem to need help in plus knowing what it's like to be a teacher. They don't get paid for this job, but they love doing it!

Cadet Teachers are going to be the future teachers. They do a great job, and are on the go and working all the time.

They all learn while they teach, such as the first and second graders. How they act and the way they do different things is what the Cadet Teachers learn.

Foreign Exchange-Exploring Traditions

The Foreign Exchange Club's main event each year is the turnabout Valentines Dance which unfortunately was quite a financial loss this year. They also sponsored an exchange student from Greece who attended our school for a semester. They also went to a field trip to the Science and Industry Museum and to a Greek restaurant afterward.

Miss Barb Stordeur, the Sponsor of the Foreign Exchange Club, was assisted by President Suzy Cash, Secretary-Treasurer Cathy Cash, and Publicity Sharon Payne in leading the club to an exciting year.

With more growth and participation the Foreign Exchange Club hopes to sponsor and send more students aboard in the future.

Art Guild—Looking Good.

The Art Guild is the club which brings lift to our school.

A Community project the club participated in was Fire Prevention Week. They painted the window in the Sport Shop.

The Art Guild made Homecoming a very special one. They made the bulldog for the bonfire and made several decorations for the Homecoming week. They also made the spirit stick for the winner of spirit week. They also added a festive touch to the Christmas tree they purchased and decorated. The President of the Art Guild was Tammy Sims, Vice President was Darla Marshall, Secretary was Jane Kohanyi, and Treasurer Vic Tutza.

Band-Key to Future Musicians.

The Band is one organization that LHS could not do without. Without a lively band a school could not be complete.

The Band concerts this year were a big success, such as the fall concert, mid-winter recital, pops concert and the spring concert. They also put on a fine performance at our open house in December.

The Band also gave a musical accent to our home football and basketball games. Not to mention the spectacular half-time performances they provided us with.

They also worked hard on there money making projects such as candy sales, tumbler sales and newspaper drives.

The President of the LHS Band was Dave Schulz, Vice-President was Steve Ryder, Secretary was Sue Talerek and the Treasurer was Sara Morrow.

Choir—Key to Music

The Lowell Choir is a wonderful group of kids who really know how to sing, even if they didn't know how to sing before, they sure know how now.

Every year they go to contest at West Central High School and have a really good time. They Choir is somewhat different from the Swing Choir. If you like to sing but are kind of clumsey in the dance department then choir is for you!

The Lowell Swing Choir, one group our school really takes pride in. The talented dancers and singers definitely know how to put on a talented program for people of all ages.

The Swing Choir has performed for local civic organizations and all choral concert programs, such as Fall Concert, Spring Concert and They also performed as a special group at West Central High School at a District Choral Festival.

The President of the Swing Choir was John Lindemer and the Co-reographers were Kathy Finney and Suzanna Jazwinski.

Devils Advocate: Key to Information

The Devils Advocate Staff are the people who put out our bi-weekly newspaper. Their goals are to keep student body informed, to offer students a variety of information in areas which concern them, to provide a variety of opportunities for involvement. The Devils Advocate Staff is very cooperative.

The Editor of the Devils Advocate Julie DeVine attended a workshop at Indiana University in the summer of '79 for two weeks.

F.E.A.-Key to Learning

Future Educators in Action is a club of girls who have an interest in the teaching field or are just in it to have a good time, which is very true.

Some money making projects which F.E.A. held were various bake sales now and then, and a Citrus Fruit sale. F.E.A. also offered a tutoring project to its members. The girls go over to Oak Hill and tutor troubled students. This club also offered a scholarship of $200 to any Senior F.E.A. member who has been a member for at least 2 years.

The project that went on all year was the elf project. Every member is given a name of a teacher and the member is to send notes and presents to the teacher. The elves are revealed at a teachers breakfast in May.

F.F.A.: Growing Steadily

The F.F.A.'s main money input comes from their two agriculture plots. The freshmen from Lowell F.F.A. went to the Freshmen Leadership Contest and spectacular results.

The District I Freshmen Leadership Contest winners were: Don Hulsey-1st Public Speaking Bob Bolt-1st Conservation Demonstarion
F.F.A. Exhibit-2nd
Jeff Evans-2nd Impromtu Speaking
Marc Viers-4th Livestock Demo.
Myron Solomon-4th Mechanics Demo.
Jeff Pratt and Andy Backe-5th Quiz Bowl
Rich Wright-5th Conservation Demo.
Bill Morrow-6th Livestock Demo.

F.F.A. made this year a very accomplishing year.

Timerettes: Make the Boys Swim Team Tick

The Timerettes lent a tremendous hand to the boys swim team this season. They not only helped keep time but they also cheered them on to a great season. They time relays and other events and perform other various duties. They were always at the poll when one of the coaches or team members needed them. They were also like the teams managers as they gave the coaches a hand.

Hopefully next year our swim team will have the same support from their timerettes.

The Industrial Education Club Council made a role-top desk they raffled off in May to make money for scholarships and donations to the shop classes.

They also used the money for some type of entertainment for everyone in Industrial Education.

They also sponsored a Solar Energy Contest.

The Officers of the active club were Pres. Rick Coburn, V-Pres. Tom Kacius, Secretary Melody Brummet and Treasurer Bill Johnson.

"L" Club-Getting Bigger and Bigger.

The "L" Club is a club in which you must have a letter in any sport.

To run for any officer of the "L" Club you must earn two more letters in any additional sports.

Athletic Director, Bill Wornhoff is the sponsor of the "L" Club.

The Sunshine Club—They Do It For Others.

Know anyone who's sick or in the hospital or just in need of cheering up? Let the Sunshine Club know! They're experts at making people smile and at generally spreading Sunshine. They work hard all year at bake sales, car washes and other money making projects and get very little praise themselves. But they do get that warm feeling that comes from making someone's day a little bit brighter. Led by President Kim Novak and sponsor Mrs. Brownell, the Sunshine Club nearly doubled it previous years' membership.

Lowellian Staff—Putting It Together.

No one, we are sure, ever really stops to think about where their yearbook comes from, they just expect to pick it up in September and have it to remember their high school years.

Behind these pages of words, pictures, and memories lie long hours—many of them. Leaving the building at six or seven (sometimes eight) o'clock is not a surprise to the real yearbook staffer.

As deadlines approached we found ourselves coming to school on weekends, vacations, and some holidays.

N.H.S.—Leaders in Education

Having trouble in a particular class? Don't know where to go for help? Ask a National Honor Society member! This group of hard-working students will be more than happy to help out in any way they can. A National Honor Society member must have a 3.5 grade average and maintain it through high school.

The club hosted the annual Open House, sponsored a booth at the Spring Carnival, and collected canned goods for the Jaycees at Christmas time.

O.E.A.-Ever Growing in Business

"We are met in spirit of friendship and goodwill as we prepare for lives of service occupations. We work together to attain the goals of O.E.A. and pledge our loyalty to our nation." This is the goal that all O.E.A. members hope to acheive. One thing all members have in common is they all have interest in is business occupations.

The club had a bowl-a-thon for the special olympics. They sold fruit, cheese and sausage to get to the State Contest which everyone participated in at District. That is the whole idea of O.E.A.

Pep Club-Key to Support.

The 1979 and 80 school year proved to be a successful one for the Pep Club. The membership practically doubled since last year. The Pep Club helped the Cheerleaders with money making projects and fund raisers. During basketball season there were at least two fan buses going to every away game.

The officers for the Pep Club were Varsity Cheerleaders, Shari Forester, Terri Runfeldt, Lisa Brown, Tami Gerst, Lynn Schlueter and Mary Williams. These girls really led the Pep Club to an excellent season and led the Pep Block to cheer on the Red Devils during good times and bad.

This year's Pep Club was the main key to the Red Devils Success!

Spanish Club: Key to Another Tongue

The Spanish Club had several projects the past year such as a decorative Homecoming Float and a Pinata Party at Christmas time.

Spanish Club had several money making projects this year, one of the most popular was the sale of flowers with personal messages attached.

The money that was earned from such projects was used for a trip to a Mexican restaurant for dinner.

The Spanish Club also earns money to help members who may qualify to study in Mexico. The past year the club helped Debbie Stavem who had been selected as a participant in the Indiana University Honors Program in Mexico.

Student Council: Key to Student Involvement

Tired of being just an ordinary student? Wonder what makes the school tick? Wanna be more involved? Run for Student Council! You can bet they'll find more than enough for you to do.

This group is always on the go. They sponsored the Christmas, Bill Slazo, and Homecoming Dances, and they organized the entire Homecoming parade. They sponsored the Sunshine Express and Hypnotist Convos, a Blood Drive, the Spring Carnival, Teacher Appreciation Week, and even found time to go to the State Student Council Convention where they attended meetings and workshops. They also received the honor of hosting the 1980 Convention next year in November.

The officers for Student Council this year were: President: Carol Ohlenkamp, Vice President: Cary Depel, Secretary: Lori Worley, and Treasurer: Julie Brunner.

Theater Arts-Key to Entertainment

"Wow, look at all of those props on the stage, it really looks like a farm!" Know who is responsible for all of the prop's getting moved on, off, and around the stage? The Theater Arts Department. These hard-working individuals are not only helping out on stage crew. They also do all of the make-up work for the actors who appear on stage, they fix their hair to match their part in the play, and even help the actors and actresses get their costumes fixed. Sometimes, these busy people even find time to take part in a particular play. This group of students play a tremendous part in the real "work" of putting together a play. They help entertain and are the keys to the success of the play by working "behind the scenes."

The Light and Sound Club is the key to all of the spectacular performances put on by the Thespians. They also lended a tremendous hand to the Junior Miss Pageant.

They also sponsored the first dance of its kind during the football season. It was the different kinds and colors of light and hit songs that made it such a great dance. It also was a huge money-making project.

Thespians were one of the most active groups that LHS ever encountered with dynamic presentation of "Story Theatre." This production was a record attendance. Also the spectacular hit broadway production of "The Music Man" was preformed April 25 & 26.

Some money making projects for the department were bake sales and a patron drive.

There were a record number of members this year who were led by Pres. Chris Morrison, V-Pres. Julie DeVine, Sec. Susanna Jazwinski, and Tres. Terry Bauer.

V.I.C.A.-"Hands-On" Skills.

The VICA had two money making projects during the year, selling fruit and their annual Tool Box Raffle, which was just before Christmas.

The officers of this club are President Rich Wilkerson, Vice President Dave Beier, Secretary Jay Smith, Treasurers Tim Crabbe and John Palmer, Reporter Mike Kingma, Parliamentarian Charlie Brownell. Each year the club goes on a ski trip, shortly after Christmas vacation and to the yearly Auto Show in Chicago at the end of February.

The Chess club more than doubled its enrollment from the past year. Any time you walk into the Science Resource Center and see students playing chess.

The chess team became part of a league this year consisting of Hebron, North Newton, Hanover Central and Lowell. In this league their record was 3-1-2.

The Chess team has made a big improvement since the past year.

The French club meets twice each six weeks. The business portion of their meetings often revolves around money making projects. They were in the process of raising money in an effort to go to Paris this coming year.

The French club meetings also have a fun side. French games are also played and individuals in the community who are conversant with French culture have come in and spoken to the group.

One of the highlights of the year for the French club is when they go to an authentic French restaraunt as one of its projects.

Photography Club-Key to Snap Decisions

All the members contribute to the yearbook and the Devils Advocate.

SPORTS

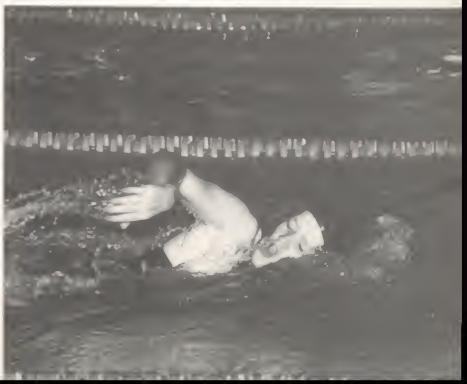

Sports are one of the biggest parts of being a student of Lowell High school. Our activities are practically built around the sports season.

If we didn't have a football team we wouldn't have a homecoming parade, Spirit Week, Powderpuff, Pep Sessions and we wouldn't have the crowning of Homecoming Queen. There is also the class competition that adds a thrill to the season. For instance, the classes compete in school decorations, Spirit Week and don't forget the yelling rallies held at Pep Sessions. The Basketball season also adds a big part to the school activities. There are the dances after all the homegames, the fan bus rides to sectionals (and other games) and there are also more Spirit Week activities and Pep Sessions.

Sure there are a lot of fun things to do with sports but did you ever stop and think of the hard practices and rough training periods the athletes go through before and during their season? But I think deep down inside most athletes feel all the time and practice was worth it. They might not have that attitude when they are on their 20th lap around the track or pushing their 50th push-up or straining for their 25th chin-up but when they swish that basketball that wins the game or run those bases after they knocked the ball out of the park they realize the slave work was worth it.

Coaches Are Teachers Too.

Coaches are teachers too! What do you think it would be like without coaches? If we didn't have coaches we wouldn't have anybody to teach our athletes sports they would like to represent our school with. And without our ability to do sports our school wouldn't be known.

All coaches teach classes too. So remember that coaches are teachers too.

Devils-A Young Season

This year the Red Devils goal was to become acquainted with the new coaching staff. The new coaching staff consisted of: Head Coach Al Holok and Asst. Coaches Kirk Adams, Mike Kamanaroff, and Chris Nicolini.

The Devils made one important break-through-they found that the key to finding themselves as a team was in the "we" concept in contrast to viewing themselves as a team of individuals.

At many pep sessions Coach Holok reminded us of the "we" concept. This was displayed at many of the games by the crowd chanting "we, we, we" when the Devils were down.

Most of the Devils support came from the pep blocks which was evidenced by the tough times this rebuilding team gave some of our most formidable opponents.

Varsity Volleyball—Off and Ready

It was back to basics again this year for the Girls' Volleyball Team. When the girls came to their first practice on August 15, 1979, they found a surprise—a brand new coach, and it was a man. This was something new for a team of girls, but they soon discovered that a new coach does not necessarily mean an easy season. Coach Carras proved to be a coach who was a believer in conditioning and weightlifting. One of the main comments from Coach Carras was that this year was to be basically a year for learning and building skills. "I'm on the other end of the bench now, last year as a player, this year as a coach. It's a new experience for me." The girls ended the season with a 3-11 record, but that does not bother the team. The important thing was that this year the girls learned how to really play as a team. As the year progressed, there was a lot more team pride, spirit, and cooperation, and this compensated for the year's record.

The goals set for the season were to improve individual times and to send some swimmers to state. Both goals were accomplished as individual times were improved, and Mary Sue Gunning did go to state swimming in the 100 yd. butterfly. Lisa Brown did an excellent job in diving, making it to the final round at sectionals. The team consisted of many returning letter winners and many freshman joined the team this year. Experienced and talented new swimmers combined for a fine season.

Freshman Baseball—Fresh Start.

Freshman baseball like most other sports, is a proving and training ground for the J.V. and varsity athletes of the future. This year's freshman team gave us all something to look forward to. Their technique and game sense, while not yet finely honed, showed great promise for a young team and their enthusiasm was not exceeded this year.

Even though the team did well this year win lose records are not as important for a freshman team as the experience the players gain and the promise each member shows. The next few years look good indeed.

Varsity Basketball—Spirit Building

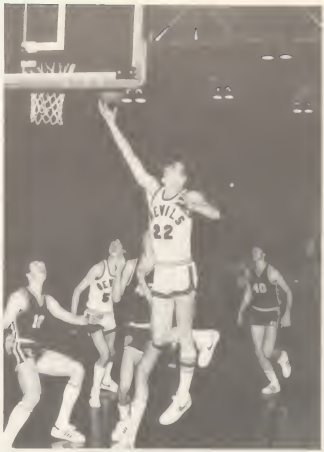

The goals for the 1979-80 basketball season were to finish .500 or better, to finish higher in the Lake Suburban Conference than in the previous 10 years of the conference, and to win a sectional. The team did win 3 conference games; more than any Lowell team. We fell two games short of finishing over .500 and one game short of the sectional. We were very pleased with a great second half of the season as we finished the second half with a 9-5 record to finish, 10-13 over-all.

We were proud of the senior leadership which grew as the season progressed. The underclassmen, Earley, Elliot, Richards, Knight, and Clawson should give us a nucleus to build around next year.

We are looking forward to seeing these freshmen doing the same and even better in the future. Under new coaching this year was Coach Chuck Naumowich and his Assistant Coach was Tom Hoffman. The new coming Red Devils are looking forward to an even better season.

Girl's Varsity Basketball—Enthusiasm is the Key.

The season went well although the team's record was not indicative of this. The team was young and fairly inexperienced. There were no seniors on the team, and only two were returning varsity players. The team worked together well throughout the season, and several games were lost by only a few points. With all the spirit and enthusiasm returning next year, the team should do quite well.

Most teams are only concerned about winning every game and whipping the pants off their opponent. But the JV Basketball teams' main concern is to increase their ability and get a taste of team support.

Although the girls are upset when they are defeated, they feel a lot better when they know they tried their very best. The team's record for this year was 4-9 and the conference record was 2-4.

The girls displayed a tremendous amount of ability and support this year and we hope we will have an even better team next year.

Girl's Golf competition takes place in the fall while the weather is nice and all summer has been spent practicing our girl's golf team turned in a well tuned series of performances on the tees fairways and greens this fall. Their record considering that they compete against some of the better girls golf teams in the state was pretty good.

In sectionals they managed to finish sixth. With all but one team member returning next year, our team should be tough on the course again next year.

Wrestlers Have .500 Season

Lowell varsity wrestlers won four of their eight matches this year. They also put together an impressive string of special meets. Our wrestlers placed first in the Goshen Invitational meet and fifth in the Merrillville Invitational meet. In post season meets the Devils were forth in the conference, third in the sectional and fourth in regional action. All considered, the Devils had a good year on the mats.

Gymnastics—Flying High

One of the Lowell High's winter sports is Girls' Gymnastics. On some nights the tension is high and the enthusiasm is up.

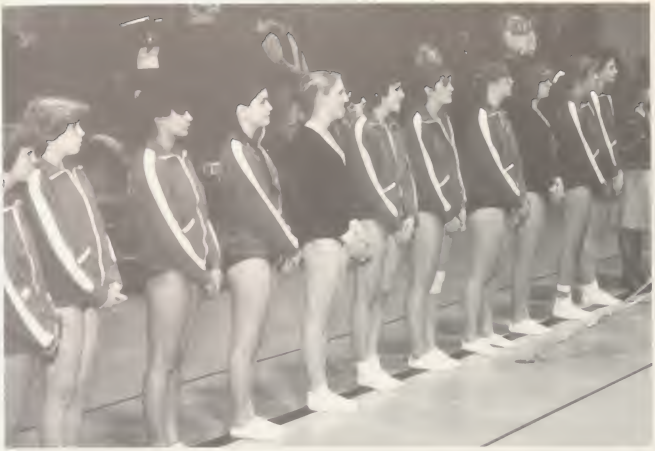

This year's most improved gymnist was Liz Sharkey, and the most valuable was Jodi Williamson. There is much talent to be seen.

The gymnastic team was under new coaching this year by Joy Hefer, and coming back to the scenes was Denise Waters as assistant coach.

Devilfish—Always One Stroke Ahead.

Winter Sports Banquet-Awards Athletes.

The Winter Sports Banquet was held on March 11, 1980. Athletes were honored with letters and certificates. The outstanding athletes were awarded with trophies from sports such as, Boys and Girls Basketball, Gymnastics, Swimming, and Wrestling.

The key to the success of the Winter Sports Program is the contributions made by each individual athlete. The Winter Sports Banquet gave everyone an opportunity to show their appreciation for each athletes' participation.

Boy's Track Team—Running Hard!

The Boy's Track Team had a good season this year. The boys did a fine job because they had a coach that was willing to sacrifice things just to make it a good season. The boys helped out by practicing and working out everyday they could. We are looking forward to a good year next year and maybe even a better one.

J.V. Baseball Team—Sluggers!

The J.V. Baseball Team had a good season. Coach Bill Burger kept the team in good shape. Each player practiced every night after school to make it a good season. We're looking forward for even a better season next year!

It's 9 to 8 in the bottom of the ninth with two outs man on second and third. Lowell gets up to bat.

Two strikes, three balls. It's up to the Lowell player to get at least a double.

Here comes the pitch. There goes the ball!! It's flying high and far! It's over the fence. It's a home run and Lowell wins with a total score of 12-9.

That's not exactly what happens at all the games, but the team did fairy well!

Girl's Tennis Team—Smashing Racket.

On a sunny afternoon in the middle of May on the tennis courts at Lowell High School, was the hard-working Girl's Tennis Team.

The day's just about over, and the last match is in play. You must win by at least two games in a match, and the score is 7-6.

There they are, and it's the opponent's advantage. It's the opponents serve and it goes over the net and Lowell ties it up with deuce. She serves it once again and Lowell just gets it over the net and Lowell wins the match, and the entire meet.

That's what most of these matches are like, and the Tennis Team did very well this year.

STUDENTS

Students are what make up the bulk of Lowell High School. Why, without its students, L.H.S. would not even need to be. There are many different kinds of students. There are the active ones who belong to every club and participate in every sport (or at least it seems that way because they've always got a million things to do and sometimes not enough time to do it in!) Then there are the students who just like to enjoy high school academically and spend their time studying or doing various homework assignments and projects. There are students who love to entertain, whether in the Little Theatre or in the classroom. Everyone enjoys a good laugh once in awhile in a class that always seems to drag by. Thank goodness for the classroom clowns. They are genuinely a breath of fresh air in a stuffy class. There are students who assist others, whether it be in the classroom, main office, science lab or resource center. They enjoy helping others and generally don't expect much reward.

Students come in many different sizes and shapes. But whether tall or short, active or taking it easy, it's clear that, in reality, the students are the key to L.H.S.

Faculty—Opening the Door.

The Lowell High School faculty comprises some sixty individuals all of whom are experienced specialists in their respective fields. Many of the faculty members hold advanced degrees in their fields of study and have been teaching that subject for several years.

While most teachers feel that helping students deal with the intricacies and demands of their classroom efforts is their key obligation, most also recognize the need for some extra curricular activities in a well rounded education. Over half of our teachers sponsor some sort of extra curricular activity ranging from clubs and classes to dances and interschool competition.

The faculty is divided into departments which vary in size depending on the usual student enrollment in that subject area. All classes in a subject are taught in one part of the building so that resource material related to that subject area is close at hand for all teachers and students to use.

Working closely with the faculty members are the secretaries and aides. These gifted people somehow manage to translate the teachers' ideas and teaching stratigies into a usable form that the students can work with in the classroom. Tests, study guides, and work sheets are organized and typed by these helpful people. At times, the secretaries and aides participate in classroom management and activities. Many times their jobs include monitoring the resource centers, study halls, and commons areas. Without the support from the secretaries and aides, the school couldn't function efficiently.

Four years ago when we were freshmen, it seemed like forever before we would be seniors. Now it is our senior year and we all wonder where all the time went to. Did we really spend four years here? It seems hard to believe. Although being a senior is a lot of fun (now we get to take cuts in the lunch line), it is also a time of planning, uncertainty, and sadness. Our last Homecoming game, our last basketball sectional, our senior prom—all times that will live in our memories forever.

We would like to dedicate this, our senior section, to Nadine. She will always be in our hearts and minds, and her smile will go on forever.

Lowell's Honors—Its Best.

When you are slaving over homework or working overtime on a project, or even working hard on perfect attendance you probably say to yourself, "Self, is this really worth it?"

Well Honors Night makes it all worth it. It was an evening of honoring outstanding seniors, club members, and other students. Various awards and scholarships were awarded. So, if you have second thoughts about completing that project, or keeping up those grades, don't forget what it means to be a part of the honors night activities.

With all of the homework and tests given during May, it's often hard for a senior to enjoy his last few weeks of high school. The final exams, reports and homework assignments seem to be endless. When the tone went off at 3:30 on May 15, the class of '80 breathed a long sigh. At last they were done. ALL THE TESTS WERE TAKEN, HOMEWORK DONE, AND THEY COULD NOW RELAX AND HAVE A PARTY!

Each year after graduation practice on Friday, the senior class gathers for one last time as a class in the multi-purpose room for their Senior Banquet. This banquet is limited to seniors only and consists of a catered meal, dancing, picturetaking and loads of fun for all who attend. This year's banquet was held on May 16 from 6:30-9 p.m. Tickets were sold to all seniors at a price of $1.50.

CLASS OF 1980 SAYS

FAREWELL TO LOWELL H.S.

The climax of every student's life is to get up on a sunny Sunday morning, eat a relaxing breakfast, don a cap and gown and head for the high school—for one last time! Graduation! The mere word is music to every senior's ear . . . and what exciting music. Pomp and Circumstance begin promptly each year at 2 p.m., and 1980 was no exception. 235 members of the Class of '80 proudly accepted their diplomas and became graduates of Lowell High School on May 18, 1980.

The exercises included speech presentations by three of the graduates: Karen Doodeman, Susanna Jazwinski, and Ken Sutton. Also speaking to the graduates was Fr. Timothy Doody of St. Edward's Catholic Church.

Following the speeches, the Lowell High School Band, led by director Joseph Vacaro, played Beethoven's Fifth Symphony in C minor as their selection for the occasion.

The presentation of diplomas was accompanied by an array of camera flashes, smiles, a few tears from mothers who couldn't believe it all, and a tinge of apprehension as the graduates realized that their high school years were indeed finished. Now it was time for them to seek out their own goals and futures.

Best of luck to the Class of 1980. May all your dreams come true.

Class of '81—The Key to Spirit

The main event of our junior year was the Prom, which was a big success. We saved up money by sponsoring bake sales, dances, the Powderpuff game and the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Leading the way for our class was Chris Morrison, President; Lisa Offutt, Vice President; Carrie French Secretary; and Julie DeVine, Treasurer.

For the past three years our class had led the entire school population during Spirit week. Now we look forward with anticipation to our senior year and all the new experiences that it will bring.

Our class sponsors are: Mrs. Brownell, Mrs. Ciochina, Mr. Deweese, and Mr. Kussy.

Class of '82—Unlocking New Doors

Our second time around was undoubtedly better than the first. We sponsored many bake sales and we also sponsored a dance.

The president of the Class of '82 was Diana Jazwinski. Giving her a hand were Vice President Lisa Mates, Secretary Mary Daley, and Treasurer Tammy Stephens.

As we look back on our Sophomore year we will recall a lot of happy memories and new experiences.

Freshmen Turn Key on High School Career

Our freshman year was filled with many new and exciting experiences. Once we got used to the fast pace of high school and the teasing from the seniors, we often wondered why we were nervous about beginning high school. Slowly we began to fit in. We planned a few money-making events, such as bake sales and a stuffed animal raffle, to build up our funds. We soon learned that class participation is the key to getting things done.

Leading the way for our class were officers Julie Schrum, president; Collette Searle, vice president; Rosalyn Duncan, secretary; and Marie Everett, treasurer. Our class sponsors are Sgt. Gayfield, Mr. Lorig, Mrs. Riggle, and Miss Waters.

For Supporting our Yearbook

Dedications never come easy. Often a dedication is written to sum up how the book was put together and to give a final Thank You in writing to all those involved. Unless you are really a Lowellian staffer, you cannot even begin to comprehend the amount of time, energy, and devotion spent this year by staff members in compiling the 1979-80 Lowellian.

This year's staff changed with the tide, and to those who did stick with me, I give a big THANK YOU! Without your dedication and desire to learn what makes a yearbook, I am sure it never could be. Thank you's are also in order for the following: To Mr. Goodman for taking the time to listen, and learn. I've taught you all you need to know, now use it. To George Kingsley, Jr., our company representative and good friend, for getting us extended deadlines, late days, and pages off our regular deadlines--What would we do without you? To all those involved in selling the book and ads, thanks. To the community, well, without your yearly support we would not even be able to think of a Lowellian each year.

To you, the students and faculty of Lowell High School, we dedicate this yearbook, for without you there would be no need for a yearbook. You are all the Keys to Lowell High School, to what happens within it, and, ultimately, to this book.

Finally, I would like to give a special dedication to three special people who, although they are no longer with us, will always be with us in memory: Nadine and Cheryl Umlauf, and Ted Handy.

Debbie Rokosz,
Editor

The 1979-80 Lowellian was created by Lowell High School students who donated their time and energy freely in trying to capture the spirit of high school life here at Lowell High School. Publishing was done by Herff Jones Yearbooks, Montgomery, Alabama, under the direction of representative George Kingsley, Jr.
